The rest of the evening was taken up with speeches by the "Boxers," Senator Burrows making the long address, followed by short speeches by 17 or 18 of his followers, including Senator Elkins. Every one of them declared in the course of his speech in the most emphatic terms that he would not vote for the Spooner bill, nor did any one of them bring forward a compromise measure, though victions and purposes which has been admired by both friends and opponents. Like all earnest and conscientious men, he has fought the good fight, finished his course and entered into rest.

THE TARIFF will, and properly should, be made one of the chief issues in the next campaign. The democrats have won on this issue and can do so leave again. The Illinois democratic State convention has just put this plank in te platform:

"We insist upon a rigid enforcement of the present anti-trust laws, and fa-vor such further legislation, both Federal and State, as may be necessary to prevert combinations which destroy competition. We denounce the republican tariff as a prolific mether of trusts. We demand a thorough revision of the tariff and the abolition of all special privileges; and that every product of a tariff-protected, compet tion-destroying trust be placed on the free list.'

which would have endoce the light in their favor for this sess in by leaving the bill unin-dorsed; but the administration Senators pro-tested, declaring that they des re! time to consider the question further. The "Boxers," seeing that Senators Plant and Aldrich beld their forces together, and The masses are now beginning to re. alize that the high tariff is responsible for the formstion of trusts and combines and that to eradicate these evils they must remove the cause.

THE DEMOCRATS can expect but little this year from Ohio or Illinois. With factional fights in the former State between Mayor Tom L. Johnson, of Cleveland, and Mr. John R. McLean, of Cincinnati, and in the latter State between Mayor Carter Harrison and former Mayor J. P. Hopkins, of Chicago, the hope of democratic success in either may as well be abandoned. The democrats in many of the States seem to relect the very worse time to go to war with each other and their actions are discoursging to their party in the other parts of the country. This fall a demo-cratic House can be elected with united action and there should be no factional differ

HOUSE.

The near approach of the end of the pressnt session of Congress was signalized by a general political speech by Mr. Richardson, the leader of the minority, and as stated yesterday he delived a set speech of an hour and a half. He arraigned the repulican party for its failure to keen its platform. for its failure to keep its platform promises, dwelling especially on the question of trusts and the necessity for tariff reduction.

Mr. Richardson announced that, in his opinion, the gravest danger now threatening the welfare of the people and the country was the growth of the power of trusts. There was, he de-clared, an irrepressible cry throughout the country for government control of the great trusts. Congress alone could heed that cry. If it was not heeded, these remorseless truts could proceed, in their greed, to defy the power of the government it elf. Mr. Richardson charged that the growth of these great trusts was due to the existence of the highest protective tariff ever placed on the statue books. There was sworn testimony of the beneficiaries of the tariff that it was the "mother of trusts."

In conclusion, Mr. Richardson charged the republican party with improvement and republican and republican extra conclusions. proper, scandalous and reckless extravagance. In four years the increase of appropriations, he said, was $1,067. 000,000. For that west sum of money he seked what the United States had gained, and in reply read the closing paragraphs of Seoster Hoar's Philip-pine speech, in which the Massachuet's Senator gave a list of the vessels we had acquired by the war with Spain. Mr. Richardson was warmly congratulated by his democratic friends when

The caucus adjourning without a roll call leaves the strength of the two opposing forces of the republican party still a matter of conjecture and uncertainty. It is said in Richmond that no zerions importance is attached to the matter there. Nevertheless, it is stated, the action of the republicans will make sure the refusal of the convention to adjourn finally and the retention of the delegated powers for some time longer; so, that if necessary, it may reconvene and substitute any section which may by any possibility be declared void. The convention will probably never formally adjourn sine die, but will fix a date at which its extraordinary powers will cease by limitation.
